Key Finding 1: Outlet Structure Drives Revenue

01

Outlet structure > Product categories

Supermarket Type 1 dominates revenue share and item volume

↗ Business Implication

Focus on high-performing outlet formats yields greater returns

✓ Outlet format critical factor

✓ Operational scale drives sales

✓ Product attributes secondary

Key Finding 2: Tier 3 Locations Outperform

02

Tier 3 > Tier 1 & Tier 2

Highest total sales despite lower population density

- Reduced competition
Lower market saturation
- Strong localized demand
Engaged local customer base

Business Implication

Tier 3 locations represent significant growth opportunity

Tier

Moderate
Mid-range

✓ Don't default to metros

✓ Underutilized potential

✓ Expansion priority

Key Finding 3: Medium-Sized Outlets Optimal

03

Medium > Large & Small

Consistent and substantial revenue contributions

- Diminishing returns

Larger outlets underperform

- Optimal scale

Best efficiency-to-revenue ratio

 Business Implication

Standardize medium-sized formats for better efficiency and scalability

★ Medium

Optimal

Consistent revenue generation

^ Large

Suboptimal

Diminishing returns beyond scale

× Small

Limited

Lower revenue potential

✓ Avoid over-investment in large outlets

✓ Standardize operational model

✓ Focus on scalability

Key Finding 4: Product Attributes Secondary

04

Outlet & Location > Product

Revenue differences are primarily structural

- Marginal category impact

Low Fat vs Regular minimal difference

- Stable ratings

3.9 average across all outlet types

Business Implication

Improving ratings or product attributes alone won't materially impact revenue

3.9

Avg Rating

Stable across outlets

<5%

Category Impact

Marginal difference

✗ Don't focus only on products

✗ Ratings won't drive revenue

✗ Need outlet-level strategy

 Customer satisfaction not primary revenue driver

Key Finding 5: Sales Growth Stabilized

Growth Peaked 2018–2019

Sales stabilized after initial growth phase

- Operational maturity

Business reached stable state

- No upward momentum

Flat growth trajectory

Business Implication

Future growth requires structural initiatives:
regional expansion or new outlet formats

✓ Incremental improvements insufficient

✓ Need structural changes

✓ Expand beyond existing structure

Strategic Recommendations

Growth Priorities

Focus on structural initiatives that drive disproportionate revenue impact

! High-impact outlet formats

! Strategic geographic expansion

01

Tier 3 Expansion

Strong demand with lower competition

02

Supermarket Type 1

Scale and consistency focus

03

Medium-Sized Formats

Standardize for efficiency

04

Product Support

Reinforce outlet strategies

Limitations & Data Gaps

Data Scope Constraints

No customer-level data

Behavioral insights unavailable

Missing financial metrics

Pricing, margins, costs unknown

Ratings lack context

Qualitative feedback missing

Promotions not captured

Pricing effects excluded

Validity Preserved

Limitations restrict causal inference but do not undermine observed structural patterns

Analysis Stays Valid
